WILSON HAD TILT WITH A DEMOCRAT

New Jersey Legislator Practically Ordered From Governor's Office

TROUBLE OVER ELECTION BILL

Chairman Asserted That the Governor Had Secured Votes Through Use of Patronage—Assemblyman Called Down.

Trenton, N. J., March 20.—The Geran election bill, which Governor Wilson is so earnestly advocating was expected to come up on second reading in the House tonight and late this afternoon Governor Wilson sent for Democratic Chairman Nugent with a view of talking matters over. The interview terminated in the Governor practically ordering Nugent out of his executive office.

After the meeting both Governor Wilson and Chairman Nugent gave out statements, which are practically the same as to what actually happened, although differing in their conclusions.

Governor Wilson asked Nugent if it was true that he was opposing the bill and Nugent replied that he was. Nugent said that he understood that the governor had the votes "but I do not know how he secured them." This angered the governor, who inquired what Nugent meant. Nugent replied that it was common talk that the governor "had obtained the necessary votes through the use of patronage." This the governor characterized as an insult and bade Nugent good afternoon at the same time waving his hand toward the door. Nugent retorted that he had "always been satisfied that you were not a gentleman," and left.

Just before the House convened Assemblyman Matthews, the Democratic leader, who has been opposed to the Geran bill, expressed a willingness to resign. As soon as his purpose was disclosed the Democratic members drowned out his voice and refused to listen to him.

BIG FIRE AT STAUNTON.

Occurred in Wholesale District, Entailing Loss of $100,000.

Staunton, Va., March 21.—Fire that started at 10:30 o'clock last night and at 2 o'clock this morning apparently had been brought under control by the fire departments of this place, Charlottesville and Clifton Forge, caused a loss estimated at $100,000.

The chief loss was sustained by the Staunton Milling Company, whose plant was totally destroyed.

The fire occurred in the wholesale district. D. W. Crum, farming implements, and R. P. Lumford, commission merchant, were burned out. Others suffered less severe losses.

The fire started in a bowling alley from an unknown cause. Electrical connections were destroyed and the city was in darkness.

TEST PROHIBITION LAW.

Case in Georgia Goes to United States Supreme Court.

Atlanta, Ga., March 21.—For the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the State prohibition law and its interference with interstate commerce the case of the State vs. George Cureton, a distiller, has been appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

In the State court it was held that Cureton had violated the State prohibiion law when orders were filled by his agent at Rising Fawn, to whom the purchase money was sent and that the transaction was culminated upon the goods being turned over to the agent of the express company at Rising Fawn, who then became the agent for the purchasers. The ruling of the lower court has been sustained by the Georgia court.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS.

Failed to Announce Decisions in Oil and Tobacco Cases.

Washington, March 20.—Disappointment was manifest today when the Supreme Court of the United States adjourned for a two weeks' recess without announcing its decision in either the Standard Oil or the Tobacco corporation dissolution suits. Because an impression had gone abroad that the court would announce its findings in these cases, attorneys from New York and elsewhere in the East joined members of the bar in Washington in crowding into the little court room only to hear other cases disposed of.

VIRGINIA BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Adopted Playing Schedule of 123 Games Yesterday.

Richmond, Va., March 20.—The Virginia Baseball League here today adopted a playing schedule of 123 games. The season is to open April 20 and close September 6. Each club is to carry 13 players, including the manager, and it was agreed that four umpires shall be carried. The president's salary was increased from $750 to $1,500. The cities forming the league are Richmond, Norfolk, Lynchburg, Peterhburg, Danville and Roanoke.

BLEWETT FALLS DEVELOPMENT

Chartered to Take Over Big Development Wrested From Rockingham Power Co.—Boston Men.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., March 20.—A charter was issued today with four million dollars capital for the Yadkin River Power Co., especially to take over the Blewett Falls power plant in Richmond county, complete it and set on foot an electric transmission and power enterprise in the operation of public utilities and the sale of power that means a vast amount of development of this kind throughout the zone available for the operation of the company, which includes Raleigh, this city being specified as the home office of the new corporation.

The State tax for the issuance of the charter was $805. The check came from Boston capitalists. Three incorporators who are the resident shareholders are W. A. Leland, W. S. Ide and J. S. Viehe, all of Rockingham. The manufacture and sale of electrical machinery and current for the operation of electric railways and a great number of other general powers are specified in the charter.

The completion of the great power plant near Rockingham and the distribution of its vast power possibilities is said to be the prime object of the new corporation. One of the most extensively interested citizens of Raleigh is Col. Chas. E. Johnson, who is also president of the Carolina Power and Light Co., that supplies Raleigh current from the Buckhorn power plant, on the Cape Fear, and operates the Raleigh street railway. It is understood he will be president of both corporations, which will co-operate.

MT. OLIVE NOTES.

Victim of Shreveport Tragedy—Personal and General Items.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., March 20.—Mr. C. Grainger Kornegay, who was killed at Shreveport, La., last Saturday as reported to the Star yesterday, is a brother of Dr. J. Wm. Kornegay and Messrs. R. L. and W. H. Kornegay, and Mrs. Chas. Spruill, all of this city where they are held in the highest esteem, as they belong to one of the oldest and best families in this community. The widow of the victim is a granddaughter of the late John H. Loftin, of this city. The relatives of the widow and her deceased husband have the tenderest sympathy of a wide circle of friends. Mr. Kornegay's remains were interred at Shreveport, La., yesterday.

Her many friends will regret to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. Annie Elmore, of this city, who has been confined to her bed for over two weeks.——It has been announced here that Mr. Alton M. Parker, the present manager of the Bell Telephone Company, will on the first of April, leave Mt. Olive to take charge of an office elsewhere. His friends will regret to see him leave.

The members of the Presbyterian church met last Friday night at the home of Mrs. Annie W. Sutherland for a few hours to enjoy a social gathering for the purpose of learning each other better.

Rev. Mr. Joyner, of Tarboro, N. C., preached at the Baptist Church here Sunday morning and night.

The recent epidemic of measles has about finished its work on the "eligibles" in Mount Olive and is now spreading into the rural districts.

BOOKER T. WAS VICTIM.

Roughly Handled in New York—Offered Aid and Sympathy.

New York, March 20.—Many prominent men offered aid and sympathy today to Booker T. Washington, the negro educator, whose bandaged head is mending from cuts and bruises inflicted, he charges, by Albert Ulrich, a carpenter and dog fancier, during an encounter last night. Dr. Washington was unable to press the charge of assault in court today, and his secretary said tonight that it was doubtful if he could appear tomorrow afternoon when the case is scheduled.

Many sympathetic telegrams from every section of the United States, and telephone calls were received by Dr. Washington all day, while scores of persons called at the hotel, according to his secretary.

Andrew Carnegie, he said, telephoned, offering any assistance that Dr. Washington might wish to command. George Foster Peabody, the banker, made a similar offer. Seth Low, president of the board of trustees of the Tuskegee Normal & Industrial Institute, conferred at length with the educator. Together, they prepared a statement which Mr. Low later made public, rehearsing Dr. Washington's version of the affair and pledging the support and aid of Mr. Low's colleague on the board to the educator.

Dr. Washington came to New York intending to spend several days here, his secretary said. He would remain however as long as necessary to prosecute the case, but hopes to return to Tuskegee within a few days.

COX PERJURY CASE CREATES INTEREST

More Charges Against Cincinnati Banker and Political Leader

HEARING SET FOR SATURDAY

Developments Thick and Fast and Cox's Attorneys Come Out Second Best—Seek an Injunction.

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—Developments relating to the charge of perjury against George B. Cox, banker and political leader, in the Common Pleas Court, came thick and fast today and in each instance the attorneys for Cox came out second best.

Judge Charles J. Hunt, presiding judge of the Common Pleas Court, declared that a statute providing for the filing of a prejudice affidavit to swear a judge off the bench is so framed that it does not apply to Hamilton county. Mandamus proceedings were then filed against Judge Hunt and a hearing was set for Saturday. This done, Judge Gorman ordered George B. Cox before him to plead to two indictments of perjury.

At the instance of Prosecuting Attorney Henry T. Hunt, Judge Gorman instructed Sheriff Cooper to go after the defendant.

Before the sheriff could reach Cox's office the latter, with an attorney, appeared before Judge Gorman. Attorneys for Cox obtained from the prosecutor an admission that one indictment against Cox would be dismissed as faulty and the case go to trial on the other.

Cox's attorneys offered a motion to quash the second indictment and gave notice of their intention to file plea in abatement. Judge Gorman set the hearing on the motion for tomorrow.

Then the Cox attorneys to gain further delay, filed before Judge Swain an application for a temporary injunction to restrain Judge Gorman from hearing any phase of the case, pending a decision on the mandamus suit. Judge Swain denied the application, but promised to hear any proceeding the attorneys might see fit to bring at 9 o'clock tomorrow.

This is the hour set by Judge Gorman for the hearing of arguments on the motion to quash the indictment against Cox and the threatened clash between the courts.

NOW UP TO STRIKERS.

Labor Leaders Will Not Assist the Express Drivers.

New York, March 18.—The 5,000 striking drivers of the Adams, Wells-Fargo and United States express companies will have to fight their battle alone without the halting of "everything on wheels," according to announcements made here this afternoon by labor leaders. The change of front since last night, followed the receipt of a telegram today from Daniel J. Tobin, of Indianapolis, president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters. Mr. Tobin said that there would be no general strike and instructed William H. Ashton, the general organizer, to declare against such a move.

Ashton, who was quoted last night as threatening to call a general strike throughout the metropolitan district, declared today that "the persistent rumors of a general strike of teamsters are both preposterous and absurd." He added that neither Samuel Gompers nor Mr. Tobin has any idea of coming to take charge of the situation.

DAVID H. MOFFATT DEAD.

Wealthy Capitalist Passes Away Suddenly in New York.

New York, March 18.—David H. Moffatt, of Denver, Col., president of the Denver Northwestern and Pacific Railway, and president of the First National Bank, of Denver, died suddenly today in his apartments at the Hotel Belmont. Mr. Moffatt has just recovered from an attack of grippe and pneumonia and was about his room yesterday in apparently good health. He was seized with a sudden chill today and expired within an hour and a half.

Death was due to a weak heart. Mr. Moffatt was 73 years of age. His estate is reported to be worth about $40,000,000.

ANSWERS CAPT. EMERSON.

Wife Brands Divorce Suit Charge a Deliberate Falsehood.

Baltimore, March 18.—Mrs. Emilie Askew Emerson in answer to the petition for absolute divorce by her husband, Capt. Isaac T. Emerson, the millionaire drug manufacturer, brands as a deliberate falsehood the charge that she had been an unfaithful wife. The answer was filed in the circuit court today and reveals the grounds on which Capt. Emerson instituted sealed proceedings on January 18th, last. Attorney for Mrs. Emerson will not discuss the probability of a cross bill, but there is a report that a compromise may be reached if Capt. Emerson should agree to a financial settlement.

CYCLONE IN BEAUFORT COUNTY

Residences Blown Down and Outhouses Demolished—Two Persons Injured—Crazy Negro Ran Amuck, Defying Arrest.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, N. C., March 20.—News reached this city today of a cyclone and very severe rain storm that visited Core Point, about 10 miles from this city, on Pamlico river, last night, doing considerable damage to property and injuring several persons.

As nearly as can be ascertained four residences were blown down by the cyclone. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Mayo was completely demolished. Mr. and Mrs. Mayo were both injured by the falling timber and Mrs. Mayo's injuries are thought to be very serious. It seems that the storm continued on down the west bank of the river, doing considerable damage to crops and outhouses on farms in the Aurora section. Buildings on the farms of Mrs. Sallie Mayo, and Mrs. Walter Mixon, near Aurora, were blown from their foundations.

William Jordan, a colored man of this city, about 30 years old, suddenly went insane at his home in Nicholsonville yesterday and ran amuck. With bricks and clubs he proceeded to demolish window panes, fences and any other property in his neighborhood that he could lay his hands on. Every effort was made by the neighbors to capture him, but in vain. He had a large knife in his hands and defied arrest. Finally the city police were called in and succeeded in arresting him and lodging him in the city jail. Efforts will be made to get him in the colored asylum in Goldsboro.

MEXICAN MINISTER NOW URGES PEACE

Senor Limantour Has Already Entered Upon His Task of Pacification

WARMLY GREETED ON ARRIVAL

Warns His Countrymen Against the Dangers of International Complications—Urges Support of Diaz.

Mexico City, March 20.—With a warning to all Mexicans that with every day the rebellion continues the danger of international complications increases, a plea to them to rally to the support of General Diaz and a declaration that the government never can enter into peace negotiations with individuals in arms, Finance Minister Jose Yves Limantour has entered upon the task of pacification, which the world at last set for him, and upon the outcome of which the whole world is interested.

The special car in which he traveled from New York reached the National station here at 10 o'clock to the minute today. Hundreds of persons, among whom were many officials and a sprinkling of women, were on hand to greet the travelers.

President Diaz's greeting was conveyed through one of his official family, the meeting between the two most talked of men in the Republic having been deferred until later.

Mr. Limantour and the members of his family went at once by automobile to the Limantour home in Mixcoac, a nearby suburb, where later the minister received representatives of the press.

Mr. Limantour declared that the statement that he was the bearer of conditions to form establishment of peace, placed in his hands by the Maderos in New York, was an absurdity.

"With bad grace could I be the bearer of such a paper, when publicly I have declared that the government could never enter into negotiations with individuals in arms. A government should do that which a reasonable public opinion demands, but it should not and cannot in fear of extinguishing itself, accede to the armed pressure of a group of misguided sons of the country. They must lay down their arms if they wish to bring about the reforms that may be necessary."

Of the insurrection itself Mr. Limantour had nothing to add, he said, to what he has previously said, that it constitutes treason.

"It is a crime of 'Leso Patria' that those Mexicans who are fighting in the ranks of the insurrectos are committing, because every day the danger of international complications increase. I hope earnestly that those misguided citizens who have taken part in this movement will soon open their eyes to the light of reason and not remain longer deaf to the persuasive voice of patriotism."

In reply to a suggestion that great results were expected to follow his return to Mexico, he said:

"It is a heavy burden that public opinion would place upon my shoulders and no one man can carry it without the co-operation of all good Mexicans. I furthermore cannot understand why such an effort is demanded of me when the direction of the policy of our government is in the hands of no less a man than the illustrious statesman who former the country, who has developed it, and has given it a high place among the nations."

"There was published this morning," it was suggested, "a dispatch from New York in which Gustave A. Madero declared that your returned to Mexico to take charge temporarily of the presidency of the republic."

"Another absurdity," said Mr. Limantour. "Already in times past, when some of my friends have besought me to become a candidate for the vice presidency, I declared my firm resolution not to accept any post in the militant politics of my country, being disposed to lend my services to the administrative branch so long as they might be considered useful by the majority of my fellow countrymen. Not having been willing then to accept a militant political post, much less would I think of such a thing at the present time, when it is the duty of all good Mexicans to rally about General Diaz to avert the dangers that menace our common country."

Deserter Dragged Back.

Douglas, Ariz., March 20.—A deserter from the Mexican army, Agua Preita, was caught in Douglas today by two Mexican officers and dragged across the line to Agua Preita. Americans and Mexicans in Douglas became greatly excited during the incident and crowds congregated.

Ten minutes later the captain of the Mexican rurales was captured, armed on a street on this side of the international line and taken to the Douglas jail.

Violating Rules of War.

El Paso, Texas, March 20.—Soft nose bullets, forbidden by the rules of war, are being used by both sides in the Mexican campaign. Col. Cullar, who commanded the Mexican troops at the battle of Casas Grandes, reports officially that nearly all of the wounded men received their injuries from soft nosed bullets. The report also comes from Agua Preita that almost every Federal soldier wounded there was shot with a soft nosed bullet.

The Herald correspondent wires today from Hermosillo, Sonora, that he saw the Federals march out from there Saturday with their belts full of soft nosed bullets. He says there were no hospital appliances and no doctors with the Federals.

MINISTER VICTIM AT PEKING?

Rumored That Russian Ambassador to China Has Been Murdered. Unable to Confirm Report of Assassination.

St. Petersburg, Russia, March 21.—It is rumored here that M. Korostovetz, the Russian minister to China, has been murdered in Peking. Neither the Foreign Office nor the War Office has been able to confirm the report this afternoon.

Dispatches received by The Associated Press direct from Peking late this afternoon mentioned the Russian legation in connection with the Russo-Chinese negotiations, but make no reference to any untoward event, which might furnish the basis of the rumors at St. Petersburg that the Russian minister to China had been assassinated.

Peking, March 20.—The Russian legation believes that the Chinese government will yield on the final points in dispute after further pressure the successive threatening notes from Russia having obtained successive yieldings. An emissary from the Chinese Foreign Board visited the legation last Thursday and promised complete compliance with the Russian demands. The formal reply of China, which was delivered on Saturday to Minister Korostovetz, failed to substantiate the verbal promise. In this note China agreed to the establishment of consulates in Mongolia, but still contested the right of Russian merchants to trade in Chinese as well as in foreign goods at these points.

Russian Premier Resigns.

St. Petersburg, March 20.—P. A. Stolypin, premier and minister of the interior, resigned today and his resignation was promptly accepted by Emperor Nicholas.

N. K. Kokovsoff, minister of finance in the Stolypin cabinet, will be the new premier and unless unexpected circumstances intervene, his appointment will be gazetted tomorrow.

The council of ministers is in session tonight with reference to the situation and it is believed that the members will decide formally to tender their resignations as an indication of solidarity and adherence to the expremier.

Premier Stolypin presented his resignation personally to the Emperor. His action was due to the rejection by the council of the empire of the Zemstvo bill for self government in the nine western provinces. The premier decided to make the crisis a personal issue and the quickness of the Emperor's answer was accepted in certain quarters as substantiating the report current recently that the Emperor had abandoned the Premier to his fate by telling the conservatives in the counsel of the empire through M. Trepoff's vote "according to their consciences." But it was learned later that the selection of M. Kokovsoff was made by the Emperor on M. Stolypin's recommendation after his majesty had exhausted all means to persuade the latter to retain his post. The reactionary groups, which plotted Stolypin's fall, thus got small satisfaction.

The present crisis like that in 1909, when the question of the re-organization of the Russian admiralty came near to disrupting the cabinet, seems to indicate that the reactionaries lack a statesman of the proper calibre to command his majesty's confidence.

LOST OUT IN RALEIGH.

Commission Form of Government Overwhelmingly Defeated.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., March 20.—Raleigh today rejected the commission form of government by a vote of 886 to 437. There was barely 50 per cent. of the vote of the city cast. The opponents of the measure had a complete organization with workers at every poll, while the advocates made no organized fight for it.

The election passed off quietly. The fight was not so much on commission government, but on the form proposed in Raleigh, which was within the initiative and referendum and other features of the Wilmington and Greensboro bills.

The advocates of commission government claim that the overwhelming defeat was due to a lack of organization to combat the very aggressive opposition. The measure had the support of the city administration that took over the reins of government under such sensational circumstances two years ago and the leaders of the defeated faction who led the opposition to commission government, are joyfully predicting the overthrow of the present adminstration at the May election.

GOLFING AT PINEHURST.

Thirty-Nine Women Participated in Events Yesterday.

Pinehurst, N. C., March 20.—Thirty-nine women participated in today's qualification round of the women's event in the 11th annual United North and South Amateur Golf Championship. Miss Mary Fownes, of Oakmont, a sister of the National amateur champion, was the gold medal winner with a card of 93.

BRYAN'S ADMIRERS PAY HIM TRIBUTE

Notables Attend Dinner Tendered Commoner on Fifty-First Birthday

LINCOLN BRYAN CLUB FEAST

Champ Clark and Senator-Elect Kern Among Those Present—Bryan Not Repudiated as Party Leader in Nebraska.

Lincoln, Neb., March 20.—Twelve hundred admirers of W. J. Bryan tonight attended the complimentary dinner tendered him on his 51st birthday by the Lincoln-Bryan Club. Among those present were Champ Clark, the coming Speaker of the National House of Representatives; Governor Shafroth, of Colorado; Senator Owen, of Oklahoma; Senator-Elect Kern, of Indiana, and Senator-Elect Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

The promoters of the feast, which took the form of a dollar dinner, made no attempt to conceal the fact that the function was in part intended as a denial of the statement made at times in Nebraska that Mr. Bryan had been repudiated as the leader of the party in his home State. In the addresses tonight a number of speakers emphasized their belief that the guest of honor was still to them the leader of Democracy, both in State and Nation.

Senator Owen in his speech at the Bryan birthday banquet tonight eulogized Arizona and the proposed constitution. He said the people had established a constitution providing for the rule of the people through the initiative, the referendum and the recall. Such a government was safe against corruption, against oligarchy, against corruption and fraud, which have honeycombed and undermined the foundations of other governments in the history of man, he said.

He praised each one of these three provisions in detail, asserting that they assured stability and did away with all grounds for complaint of the laws which they would write themselves "free from corruption, intimidation, force or fraud."

Senator-Elect Kern, of Indiana, said: "The future of W. J. Bryan is secure. Whether he shall ever again be called on to lead the Democratic hosts is a question of little moment to him; for, by reason of his achievements, in behalf of the people he has so endeared himself to, the great rank and file of the American democracy that wherever Bryan sits, in the Democratic councils of the future, there will be the head of the table. Other men may find even higher favor among men who work at politics as a trade, and among those who sit in the seats of the mighty, but Bryan's strength will be in the fact that in millions of American homes he will always be regarded as champion and friend."

ESCAPED FROM THE SHIP.

Seaman Wanted in Georgia on Charge of Forgery.

Norfolk, Va., March 21.—M. E. Starling, a seaman on the battleship South Carolina, whom the naval authorities had been notified was wanted in Quitman, Ga., upon a charge of forgery, escaped from the ship last night. The Portsmouth police, locating Starling, applied for his delivery, but the naval authorities refused to surrender him unless the Georgia State authorities agreed to deliver the accused back to the navy in the event of his acquittal.

Atlanta, Ga., March 20.—Governor Brown today issued a requisition on the Governor of Virginia, the Secretary of the Navy and the commander of the war vessels at Norfolk, Va., for M. E. Starling, a sailor on the battleship South Carolina, wanted in Quitman, Ga., for alleged forgery of checks which netted him $1,500. It was reported here that Starling had been taken off the South Carolina and was being held at Norfolk.

MOBILE BANK SUSPENDS.

Inability to Realize on Re-Discounts Given as Reason.

Mobile, Ala., March 21.—Inability to realize on re-discounts was given as the cause for suspension today of the Leinkauf Banking Company, one of the oldest banking institutions of Mobile. Harvey Pake was named as assignee.

President W. H. Leinkauf, of the bank, said that stagnation in the lumber and timber trade, which heretofore had been a large part of their business made it impossible to realize on some of their bills.

Newberry, S. C., March 20.—The case against O. H. Evans, former member of the old South Carolina board of dispensary directors, under indictment in one of the so-called "graft cases" was continued in court here today until the next term. The continuance is probably the last which will be granted the case either being brought to trial at the next term of court, or nol prossed according to Judge R. C. Watts, presiding.

INVESTIGATE STEEL TRUST

Democratic Leaders Determined Upon Passage of Stanley Resolution Providing Inquiry Into the Country's Corporations.

Washington, March 18.—That one of the first measures to be pushed through by the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives at the next session of Congress will be the resolution for the investigation of the United States Steel Corporation, to determine whether it is a combination in violation of the anti-trust law, was the statement made today by Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, author of the resolution, who has been canvassing sentiment among the members-elect on this subject.

The proposed investigation was strongly urged at the session just closed, but the resolution authorizing it was finally pigeon-holed in the Rules Committee, of which Representative Dalzell, of Pittsburg, was chairman. The minority members of the committee, including Speaker-elect Champ Clark, were all committed to the measure and other Democratic leaders are in favor of pushing the resolution through as early as possible. Not only is the resolution favored on its merits but it is believed that it will provide valuable material for use in the next Presidential campaign.

"The attitude of the members of the Democratic majority, and also of many so-called insurgents who favor this measure," said Representative Stanley today, "is that the Steel Trust is one of the most dangerous combinations of capital in existence, because it controls not only the manufacturing side of the steel industry, but also by far the greater part of the raw material required by the industry. Through its domination of leading transportation lines it even controls some its most important customers and prevents opposition from that source.

"If the tobacco trust opposes the farmers they can hold back their crop—as they have done—until reasonable prices can be obtained. If the meat packers treat the cattle growers unjustly, it is within the boundes of possibility for the latter to slaugater their own animals, and, if necessary, to get into direct relations with consumers. Those great packing plants in which millions of dollars have been invested would be valueless heaps of junk in the face of the combined opposition of the producer and the consumer. But when the Steel Trust advances the price of wire nails, or any other of its products, 300 per cent., the public is helpless because the trust controls the sources of supply and dictates to the few independent manufacturers the prices they shall charge. It can enforce its will upon these manufacturers by the threat to cut off their supply of raw material.

"There is another point on which it will be interesting to obtain light. It is significant that while there have been Federal proceedings against the oil trust, the tobacco trust, the meat packers and the lumber interests, the hands of the Department of Justice seem to be paralyzed whenever they approach any of the interests dominated by the supreme leader of Wall Street. The Steel Trust, which seems to the ordinary man a combination in restraint of trade as surely as the Northern Securities Company ever was, bluffed the Roosevelt administration out of any action by a virtual threat to precipitate a destructive panic. So far it has escaped attention from the present administration. It will be worth while to undertake the proposed inquiry if only to show that our government is not Morganized, as our industries to a great extent have been Morganized."

Talks with the most influential Democratic and insurgent leaders have verified the statement that the resolution authorizing the Steel Trust investigation will be passed as soon as possible after the convening of the next session.

"BUZZARD'S ROOST" DARK.

Colored Folks Gallery of Opera House Closed for Repairs.

No seats were sold last night for the colored folks' gallery, commonly known as the "Buzzard's Roost," at the Academy of Music, for this floor has been temporarily closed for repairs by the order of Mayor Walter G. MacRae, who made the timely discovery yesterday that the floor joists have pulled away from the front support, probably under the great strain of the six hundred negroes who witnessed the show of Black Patti, a few weeks ago, from this perch. It is said that there is no danger in occupying either of the other two floors and they were crowded last night. It is understood that it will cost a considerable sum to make the second, or negroes' gallery, again safe for use. The work, it is understood, will begin in a few days, probably today. In the meantime, the gallery is not to be used, the police having been notified yesterday that no one must be permitted to witness performances from that gallery and the lessee of the opera house was also notified to make the proper repairs.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Wilmington Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the approach of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills act on sick kidneys. Here's Wilmington proof:

S. C. Winner, 215 E. Market street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I still believe Doan's Kidney Pills to be an excelent kidney medicine and I cheerfully confirm the testimonial I gave in their favor in February, 1908. This remedy has been used in my family, being procured at Bellamy's Drug Store, and it has given relief from backache and other symptoms of kidney complaint.'

SEARCH FOR RUNAWAY COUPLE.

Young Lady of Southport and Soldier Thought to Have Come Here.

Yesterday afternoon shortly after 4 o'clock Deputy Register of Deeds Norwood received a telephone message from Southport forbidding the issuance of a marriage license to Miss Viney Willetts, daughter of Mr. J. M. Willetts, of that place, on account of her age, who was said to be on her way to this city on the steamer Wilmington in company with a young man whose name Mr. Norwood could not understand over the telephone. The young lady is said to be only 17 years old. Although the Register of Deed's office remained open until 6 o'clock, the couple did not make application for a license. Last night about 9 o'clock Chief of Police Williams received a telephone message from Southport asking him to make a round of the hotels here in search of the young lady, who, this message said, had eloped with a soldier from Fort Caswell, for the purpose, it was thought, of getting married in Wilmington. They were accompanied by another lady, it was stated. The search was made as requested, but the parties were not found. It is thought probable that they left here on the 7:30 o'clock train for a point in South Carolina.

This monogram on the radiator stands for all you can ask in a motor car

Buy a complete motor car--don't buy parts

YOU often hear the expression: "Well, such and such a car has a great motor in it."

Just what does that mean, do you suppose? Does it mean that the motor would run a long time and show great results if it were put on a block in the experimental room? We can think of no other explanation.

Of course you can't have a good automobile without a good motor. But a motor alone won't make a good automobile, no matter how good the motor may be. Motors are designed for automobiles, not automobiles for motors.

A good automobile is a unit made up of many different and important parts, each part made of the right materials and perfectly built and tested of itself, then all assembled into their proper relations and thoroughly tested as a whole piece of machinery.

A "great" motor simply can't be great in a car that has a poor transmission, or a weak axle, or a poorly designed clutch, or a light frame, or weak wheels, or laxness in materials and construction.

So-called "great motors" certainly have played hob with a lot of automobiles.

Some folks buy motors, some buy wheels, some tires, some bodies, some doors, some a certain color of paint.

Our advice is: Buy a motor car--a whole car. It doesn't cost any more.

Chalmers cars have won a good reputation for all-round service. That reputation now stands for a good motor, hung into a staunch frame, rolling on strong wheels with adequate tires, joined to a perfect clutch bearing power through a good transmission to axles that will stand every strain.

Chalmers cars have good springs, brakes, bodies, doors and colors. They have beautiful lines.

They are automobiles.

The service is guaranteed. A demonstration at your convenience.

LOYALTY OF THE BLACK MAN

A Reminiscence of the "Late Unpleasantness "Wherein an Incident of Interest to Southern Soldiers is Related.

(By Col. G. N. Saussy, of Georgia.)

The writer had the fortune or misfortune to become an enforced guest of the nation, first at the Old Capitol at Washington as a representative of the "Cracker State," but not with the privileges of a House member or a Senator, in the early Fall of 1863.

Soon the guests of the Old Capitol outgrew the capacity of the building, so our hospitable (?) host, Uncle Sam, invited the larger part of his guests to take a steamboat excursion down the Potomac to a seaside resort, located at the confluence of that river and the Chesapeake, Point Lookout, Md. Here, a miscellaneous gathering of Uncle Sam's wards, representing citizenship from almost every Southern State were congregated. There were a few representatives also of Her Majesty, of Great Britain, the Emporer Napoleon, William of Prussia, and perhaps of a few other foreign potentates.

In the Spring or Summer of 1864, the prisoners were individually taken before a Federal officer and the following alternatives propounded to each of them:

"Do you wish to take the oath of alegiance to the United States government and enlist in its navy?"

"Do you wish to take the oath of alegiance to the United States government and be released upon agreeing to work in or on government works?"

"Will you accept a parole for the war? or will you remain here a prisoner of war with your chances of exchange?" (or death.)

The reader will note the hardest or most dangerous propositions was the first tendered. Of course, if the party questioned, accepted the first proposition the other questions were not propounded. To the credit of the unfortunates, very few surrendered to these inducements.

Among these restrained or enforced guests of our generous (?) Uncle, was a short, stocky, mulatto, named Dick Poplar, formerly of Petersburg, where he had in the "good old days" held the distinguished office of head waiter at the Jarrett hotel. Somehow, Dick forsook this profitable position and became the valet or servant of a Confederate soldier, and in the turmoil of battle at or near Gettysburg, had the misfortune to be captured. He was sent with the soldier he had served, to Point Lookout. Dick was there imprisoned as a Confederate soldier and treated as one. Of course, his time came to undergo the inquisition above referred to. Dick alowed all the propositions to be submitted then replied, "I reckon I'll stay an' go back wid de boss." (his master or employer.)

Before dismissing him the questioning officer said, "have you—have you not—have you not got African blood in your veins?" "Oh, yessur," replied Dick, "dat's werry current down Souf." The hesitancy of the officer was because he knew a Southern white man—a Caucasian—would resent the imputation of African blood in his circulation.

Dick stuck through the hardships of that imprisonment. A few years ago, the writer started a tracer to find what had finally become of Dick. General Stith Bolen, of Petersburg, wrote me Dick had remained true to the last, though in his latter years, he became somewhat dissipated and caused his Petersburg white friends some trouble and expense in paying his fines or getting him off the gang. When he died, six Confederate soldiers were his pall-bearers.

In August, 1864, our hospitable (?) Uncle, solicitous of the health of some of his guests at Point Lookout, planned a surprise for those he selected for a special excursion. An officer got up on the guard-walk, (on the fence) and verbally extended this invitation by calling out the names of the special guests. The writer was one whose name was vociferously bawled out. He was somewhat chary as to what was in the air, so for a while refrained from answering the call. A comrad said, "you are foolish not to answer. You don't know but what this call-out is to send this detachment back South." The writer therupon answered and was directed to get his belongings (?) and report at the gate. There a guard escorted the excursionists to the wharf and aboard a transport. At dusk the steamer rounded the "Point" and headed up the Chesapeake. Next morning found the excursionists at Baltimore. Surely this was a roundabout way of taking us back to Dixie. The five hundred excursionists were paraded or marched across the city to the depot of the Northern-Central R. R. and there entrained, in box cars. A day and a half's journey brought the excursion party to the little town in central southern New York, and remembered by not a few, as Elmira.

Here we met quite a concourse of fellow-sufferers, or fellow-guests and here we were domicilled for nearly seven months longer.

In March, 1865, there came an order from somewhere, possibly Uncle Sam's private residence, to select about five hundred of those who had longest taxed his hospitality, and instruct them to put on their Sunday suits or evening clothes (?) and prepare for another free ride. The writer had gone, a week or ten days before, to the smallpox hospital, having contracted a slight indisposition that necessitated taking a course in quarantine. However, at the time of this call, he was convalescing and succeeded in persuading the doctor, then the Colonel commanding, to include his name in the list of excursionists.

This time the train headed South. We took the back track and arrived in Baltimore by a belated schedule, then again we transferred to a steamer and sailed down the bay and up the James. When your Uncle's guests debarked at Akin's Landing, marching two and two down the gang plank, in the file just in front of the writer, were two negroes—one a North Carolinian, the other, I think, a Mississippian. Of the North Carolina negro I learend that he had been a fireman on a Cape Fear transport when the steamer had been sold to the Confederate government to be converted into a river and sound gunboat. This negro man continued in the same capacity under the new ownership. The little gunboat was later captured and the black fireman along with the others, taken prisoners and sent to the U. S. military prison. There the darkey was solicited to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. "Sure," responded the negro. "But," said the officer, "you must enlist in the army." "Not much," answered the darkey. "Well, then you must go into the navy," ventured the recruiting (?) officer. "Nothin' doin'," replied the Senagambian, "say look yer mister. I'm perfectly willin' to take this yer oath. I want you to understan' I have no intrus' in this yer war. I'M a free man; I'm no slave. But i have a wife and children in Nort' Carolina an' I love my family an' mus' go back to them. I'll take yer oath but it spells my return to my family."

He further said he had a surfeit in the C. S. Navy, therefore, no further ambition to change being a target from either side. The result was the darkey was continued as a prisoner and was sent South in the same detachment with the writer.

Your correspondent has often thought of that occurence, especially the case of the slave darkey returning of his own volition to his master, rather than receive freedom (?) at the hands of Uncle Sam's officers. The writer brings up the incident just forty-six years after its occurrence. He is anxious to know if any residents of the "Old North State," especially old veterans, are cognizant of the occurrence and can furnish him or the press with the name and location of this North Carolina black man.

The writer had a negro boy, a general utility fellow, who cooked, laundered and acted as groom to the horses of himself and brother, in the cavalry of Lee's army when Stuart cut loose from Lee's infantry June 24th, 1863. In reaching for Hooker's rear, this boy, of course, remained with the wagon train. When the wagon train passed through Chambersburg this combination servant was enticed away with a fellow servant, by a tavern keeper, plyed with liquor and concealed in an attic. These two black boys were kept in confinement until Lee's army had met its repulse at Gettysburg and retired again to the Potomac. Then this loyal Pennsylvania Boniface brought out the boys and sold my own as a substitute. The other managed to elude military enlistment, and after the return of the cavalry to Culpepper, in August, '63, this boy re-appeared in his master's camp, having successfully evaded and eluded northern armies and worked his way back to voluntary servitude, rather than enlist as a U. S. soldier or remain amongst strangers.

Promptly upon his discharge from the army after the suspension of hostilities, my boy came back and took his old place in my dining room in his old capacity as butler. He told of his having been enticed by the tavern keeper, kept drunk and then sold as a substitute or bounty-man. He said he became desperately homesick and desired to return, but was told if he attempted such he would be shot for desertion, and if not caught by the blue soldiers, he would certainly be killed by the "rebel" (?) outposts in attempting to regain the Confederate line. These statements appealed to nim as the horns of a dilemna, so he stayed until "this cruel war was over."

These are instances of black loyalty that occurred under very unusual circumstances. Of course, the South has innumerable instances of splendid loyalty of the negro servants in the ordinary walks of life, but the conditions here illustrated were peculiar and for that reason the writer has elaborated the story. He trusts this story may be read by some one who may know of this North Carolina negro; and the writer will be greatly gratified to learn what has become of him. Just forty-six years ago, this 16th day of March, we were delivered to the Confederate authorities at Akin's Landing, and a few are still this side the Great Divide just waiting the last Roll Call.

HIRED HER WORK DONE

But Mrs. McGill Would Very Much Prefer to Do Some of It Herself.

Jonesboro, Ark.—"Some time ago," says Mrs. A. McGill, of this place, "I suffered a complete breakdown in health. I was very weak, and could not do any work. For years, it was hired help and doctors that got all my money. I tried different medicines, but they did me no good.

Someone told me to take Cardui. I had seen it advertised, but I thought it would be like everything else, and would do me no good. One day, I got a bottle, and one bottle did me so much good I was surprised and took some more. It cured me.

Before I took Cardui, I had headache and backache, and sometimes I would cry for hours. Now, I am over all that, and can do all kinds of housework. I think it is the greatest medicine on earth."

In the past fifty years thousands of ladies have written, like Mrs. McGill, to tell of the benefit received from Cardui. Such testimony, from earnest women, surely indicates the value of this reliable woman's remedy.

For quick relief from all forms of womanly trouble, you can get no medicine so good as Cardui.

Are you a sufferer? Cardui is the medicine you need. Try it.

Photos Show Dangers to Foreign Miners of Anthracite.

The photographic method of instructing foreign miners in the anthracite region has proven a thorough success. In no other way, it is said, have the companies been able to bring home to the men with such clearness, the dangers and the need of caution.

The Deleware, Lackawanna & Western first embraced this scheme. The company's protographer went down into the mines and had the stage set for him, so to speak. "What Not to Do," might well be the title of one series of pictures showing mistakes which often lead to accident. Then there are the illustrations showing the right way to perform the various duties of the miner.

Today the problem of safety in mining in the hard coal fields is reduced largely to a problem of education. Thousands of men from Southern and Eastern Europe, who cannot speak English and know nothing of mining, have come into the region in recent years, and the State Department of Mines reports that the ignorance or carelessness of these men is responsible for most of the accidents. So the companies have established schools for the workers in dozens of mining centers. And in all of these schools the methods of preventing accidents form the main part of the course. The benefits of the system are already apparent.

Prosperity is largely a thing of the imagination with most people.

Probably the electric lamp trust has reduced its prices 33 1-3 per cent. in order to make Uncle Sam think he has snuffed out the combination.

The Hon. Wm. J. Bryan a few days ago was the guest of Governor Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey. Anti-Bryanites will be sure the Nebraskan only made a pulse feeling call.

The Hon. Champ Clark advises young men to come South. Speaker Clark should be invited to Wilmington so he can see the part of the South the young men should come to.

There are several kinds of Democrats, most of whom are under the false impression that some latter-day theories are ancient Democratic principles.

Many a man who would insist that his wife hasn't got intelligence enough to vote is easily led by her to believe that he will have bad luck if he enters upon important business transactions on Friday.

Norfolk has a legislative candidate named Gunn. We should infer from the gentleman's name that he will make considerable noise along the firing line. He would be a queer Gunn if he hasn't got one or two barrels.

The New York Supreme Court awarded a girl $5,500 for the loss of two fingers. This places a value of $27,500 on a girl with ten fingers, but she will go right on carelessly letting some duffer put a ring on the most valuable finger she has.

It has gotten to be so common around Washington for Government officials to ride in automobiles and carriages at government expense the Democrats in Congress are discussing propositions to make them do some walking or pay their own expenses. In the meantime, the Democrats should be careful not to do anything that may aid the movement to make them walk the plank.

The session of the Democratic Congress to begin April 4th may be far more historic than we dream. Says the Washington Post: "One thing is certain, that new Democratic House will be too scared by the time April 4th rolls 'round to try to cut down the size of the army." Is somebody putting up a job on the Democrats, just because they thought they were going to be on Easy street?

The Washington Post tells us that Washington soon may have street car letter boxes. The Postoffice Department has taken up the matter with the street car companies and it is proposed to try the experiment in a small way and then extend it throughout the country. It is said the scheme already has been tried successfully in several other American cities. There is no reason why it should not be tried in Wilmington and every other city with street cars. It would be a boon to the public—that is, if people would not flag down a car just to mail a letter.

The Mexican government has assured the Washington government that Americans operating with the insurrectos will not be summarily shot, but will be given a civil trial under the sedition laws. This seems to be satisfactory to our government, but we rather fancy a fellow would prefer to be shot summarily than to be half-starved in prison during a trial that finally would end in his being put out of business.

RALEIGH'S Y. M. C. A. CAMPAIGN.

A campaign will be inaugurated in Raleigh this week to raise $65,000 for the purpose of erecting a Y. M. C. A. building in North Carolina's beautiful Capital City. It is said to be a big undertaking for Raleigh, because the city has so few men who are possessed of such lareg means that contributions cannot be expected in large sums. Therefore, the friends of the movement will be largely dependent upon the smaller amounts which must come from the people generally.

This really gives Raleigh an opportunity to demonstrate her city pride. It looks better for a city where public sentiment is so strong for a great moral undertaking that all the people unite as an earnest community to do what some public benefactor, ordinarily, is expected to do. Raleigh has manifested a high purpose in proposing to erect a handsome Y. M. C. A. bunding and we are confident the campaign will show that the public pride and money is there to carry out the laudable purpose which has been determined upon. Raleigh is a proud and enterprising city and our confidence in that attractive city is such that we feel sure of the result.

The Raleigh News and Observeer is a strong advocate of this Y. M. C. A. movement and a few days ago that paper made the astonishing revelation that Raleigh is the only State capital in the United States without a Y. M. C. A. building. That statement was so astonishing that it is going the rounds of the press throughout the United States, and while it is publicity of a most unenviable character, it is so significant that it should serve to stir up public pride at the State capital, as well as arouse the deep moral sense and responsibility of the community. The fact is, Raleigh cannot afford to be unique among all the capitals in the respect that it stands alone in not being able to point to a building erected exclusively for the uplift of her young men. A sense of public shame must be felt that Raleigh cannot point out to the visitor the home of an Association which has embraced the world in its successful efforts to provide a haven into which young men may be guided from the outside storms around them in the average city.

The Y. M. C. A. really is a religious club for young men, and, necessarily, it is undenominational. It has no creed to unreasonably restrain its members or make them weary, but its highest ambition is to entice them into a moral atmosphere, place good influences around them, provide healthful exercise and innocent amusement, and be the means of elevated social intercourse that will make manly young men. As an institution it is recognized everywhere for its high ideals and its possibilities for the good of cities and communities, and the city or community which is without its attractive Y. M. C. A. to brighten the lives of the young men and place within their reach the possibilitics of the cleaner life is considerably behind the times. We are satisfied Raleigh is not going to remain in that class of cities, and leastwise will not be content to hold the record as the only State capital without such an ennobling institution.

Raleigh is this year erecting a $135,000 auditorium, is constructing a handsome hotel, and is making progress along many lines, but in its progress there will be an inexcusable gap if a Y. M. C. A. building is not reared as an evidence that North Carolina's capital has a thought of its young men. Every man, woman, girl, boy, business house and corporation in Raleigh can become a public benefactor in aiding the Raleigh campaign to fill in a gap that now looks ugly for Raleigh.

SOUTH'S GREATEST CHANCE.

The present affords the greatest opportunity the South has ever had. Not only has the South made good agriculturally and industrially, but the progress along all lines has been so conspicuous that it has given this country world-wide publicity. What the South has done, what the South can do, and what it is possible to do, has fixed the eyes of capitalists and homeseekeers upon North Carolina and other Southern States. This is but the beginning of the attention which the South is to receive, and it depends upon each State and each community as to how much of that attention they will get for their share. This is hint enough.

Attention is being giveen to the South because the South has achieved success, while its resources and possibilities for greater achievements are on a scale which is recognized to be exceedingly broad. The South has been doing big things, and what is thought of operations in our part of the United States is told in an editorial in the New York Journal of Commerce the past week. Recently there has been on foot a movement for a $12,000,000 cotton mill mergeer in the Carolinas, and it is said there will be no trouble in getting the cash to finance such a large undertaking. The Journal of Commerce says:

"The accuracy of news that another large cotton mill combination was in progress in South Carolina was not doubted in the cotton goods market, although definite information was not at hand in circles directly interested. The matter has been talked over for some time, and it is well understood that any arrangements made toward perfecting the organization of the properties in mill centers will not alter present selling arrangements.

"A merchant who knows more perhaps than any other New York factor concerning the Southern mill situation said yesterday: 'For some time eastern mill machinery men and eastern investors in mills have been showing a greater partiality toward Southern properties and have been quite willing to underwrite any sound plans for financing them in a stronger way. In the case of the mills that are now talked of as being combined under the presidency of Mr. Smyth it is only necessary to look over the current stock lists and see that they are in a pretty strong position.

"'Some are selling as high as $175 a share, others at $150, and so on. There are some small, weak mills in the list, but they are fully under financial control and can be readily provided for if the old form of management is desirable. Under the new form there are many advantages to be gained, which attach to any consolidation that emanate from stockholders and managers and not from promoters. Larger units of manufacture appeal more strongly to banking interests in large financial centers if the management is sound, as it will be in this case.'

"In another quarter it was said that 'as soon as the Parker consolidation became effective it was certain that Mr. Smyth would bring about a closer amalgamation of the plans he manages. This does not mean any stock-promoting scheme in my mind, but it is the result of strong financing by men who know what they are about. This new consolidation will appeal to investors, and it has already received the commendation of stockholders from the first. There are a great many economies Southern mills have yet to learn and a concentration of financial management in a limited way seems a good thing, to my way of thinking.'"

While this seems to be a good time to attract homeseekers, it is the opportune time to attract capital to establish industries in Wilmington. Southern propositions will now receive attention, and if some of Wilmington's constructive citizens will get up some propositions of a definite character they may find they can make it interesting to some investors who are looking toward the South.

The Washington Post on Sunday announces that 12,000 soldiers are to be sent to strengthen the garrisons at Honolulu and in the Philippines. The Post is not a "yellow journal," but it makes some startling references to the effect which certain Japanese activities are having on military maneuvers in this country.

WILMINGTON IN THE PICTURES.

The Charlotte News is running some catchy "Cartoonlets on Current Topics." In Sunday's News, Wilmington is represented as a hefty female wearing a harem skirt and "attracting attention" because of her "commission form." The girl, which is labeled "Wilmington," is making wonderful strides, and, to all appearances, she will "get there, Eli."

Come to think of it, the harem skirt is really emblematic of progress, while the hobble skirt naturally interferes with "striding to the front." The harem skirt permits free and easy movements, and doesn't hamper progress, so the significance of the News cartoon is that the commission form of government in Wilmington will remove her hobble and permit her to go forward by leaps and bounds, so to speak.

By the way, Wilmington is getting a good deal of publicity on account of her adoption of the commission form of government. The election on that question has given the city widespread newspaper notoriety, and our esteemed contemporary has been so impressed by it that Wilmington is featured in a cartoon on its front page. This reminds us to say that the towns which do something are the ones which attract attention and gain notoriety. Real sleepy towns get so far behind the times they do nothing to get in the limelight.

If Secretary Ballinger is to be given a farewell dinner in Washington he may want Messrs. Pinchot and Glavis invited, so he can make them eat their words.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Andrew Jackson may have been born in North Carolina, but what we would like to see is some of the living men of the State measure up to the requirements of the times.—Greensboro Record.

If Wilmington people can get together as successfully in settling all the propositions confronting that city as they did in declaring for commission government, the City-by-Wrightsville-Beach has it in its power to make a new record of growth during the next decade.—Greensboro Telegram.

Only 22 people in the whole of Wilmington voted against the commission form of government. Wilmington is thoroughly commissioned to go ahead in the new way of running her city government, and here's hoping she will make a great success of it for the example to others.—Durham Sun.

A lot of people have been scared to death over the section that taxes dogs in the new charter. As everybody happens to love dogs (in Raleigh) this has been good campaign thunder to work on the ignorant. Many have become frightened over it, and as they believed they would have to pay ten dollars on old Fido. But the old charter under which we are now living has the same provision, word for word, that is in the new one. We have dogs by the thousand under the old charter, and the provision has not been changed a single word. The tax on dogs is the same.—Raleigh Times.

Mr. Roosevelt the other day hailed Birmingham as "The first Southern city to introduce the commission system into the administration of local affairs." Many places in Texas, notably Galveston and Houston, several in Tennessee, more than one in Mississippi, and Columbia, in South Carolina, have preceded Birmingham in the application of business principles to the conduct of local affairs. In fact, out of about thirty Southern towns, Birmingham is the last, with the exception of Wilmington, to have taken the departure from the old and inefficient system.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

The size of the vote cast in the commission election in Wilmington has been cited as evidence of lack of interest among the people of that city in regard to the proposed change. The Star says that the vote cast was of average size, and that something of extraordinary interest is required to bring out a larger vote in that city. It is not probable that the best citizens of Wilmington, those who have business interests there and those who have the welfare of the city in mind and who value the privilege of the franchise, refrained to any considerable extent from participating in the commission election.—Greensboro Telegram.

Virginians cannot help being envious of North Carolina these days, with the North State cities going right along adopting commission government, while we on this side of the line have to look on and content ourselves with hoping that we shall be able to do the same thing some time in the Sweet-Bye-and-Bye. North Carolina's constitution permits any municipality within the Commonwealth, within certain limitations, to adopt the system, while the Virginia constitution maps out with much detail the character of government they shall have. Virginians thought soon after the convention which framed the constitution adjourned that it had given the Commonwealth the best constitution in the country. Possibly this belief was based on the fact that one hundred of the ablest men in the State had been engaged so long in the work. The constitution has lost much of its popularity since it became the organic law. It becomes evident every day that the convention did not give enough elasticity to the instrument, that the document evidences too great distrust of the people. What possible harm could have resulted from adopting a constitution which left to the people of the city the right to say what form of government they should have?—Petersburg Index-Appeal.

It hasn't been many weeks since a scientific gentleman figured it out to a mathematical nicety that in the course of a certain number of years—and not many at that—the whole country would be crazy. Now comes another scientific gentleman, Prof. Cavanaugh, of Notre Dame University, Chicago, and asserts that if something is not done, and that speedily, the whole country will go into screaming hysterics. Dr. Cavanaugh says we need something in the nature of chloroform to put us to sleep for awhile until our nerves can get back into normal condition. He thinks we are living too fast, chasing money too hard, taking too highly spiced amusements, and so on. Dear, dear, what dangers beset us on all sides! How do so many of us manage to exist despite the microbes, the boll weevil, the hook worm, the lunacy and hysteria bugs and the food trusts.—Savannah News.

THE TALE OF A PAIL.

The big problem of manufacturers of food products has been to devise a package for their products which will insure the housewife getting them sweet, fresh, without deterioration.

In this connection a very ingenious package has been invented for the protection of Cottolene. The pails in which this cooking fat is packed (it is never sold in bulk) have a special cover forced on by machinery and then sealed. This makes the pail absolutely air-tight, and Cottolene will keep indefinitely as fresh and as sweet as the day it was made.

Proposed Changes in By-Laws of the Chamber of Commerce Discussed at Special Meeting Yesterday—Other Notes.

For the purpose of arousing a larger general interest in its affairs, resolutions proposing a change in the by-laws of the Chamber of Commerce, providing a decrease in the membership dues of the first two classes of the organization and giving the third class more privileges with a slight increase in dues, were presented at a well attended meeting of the Chamber yesterday at noon.

It is believed that such a change would be to the interests of the Chamber in a number of ways, principally in bringing a larger membership to make it more representative of the business interests in general. President J. A. Taylor presided and the resolution were presented by Col. John VanB. Metts. There were about 40 members present and a number of them stated their views on the proposed change. As it is contrary to the by-laws of the Chamber to vote on a proposed change of this kind at the same meeting it is presented, President Taylor, after a free and full discussion of two hours, immediately called another meeting for the first Thursday in April.

The changes as presented are to make the dues of Class A members $48 instead of $50; Class B members $24 instead of $25; and class C members $12 instead of $10. Each member has the privilege of casting one vote for every $12 paid in dues, this applying only to the election of officers. Members in Class C. in the past have not been entitled to a voice in the election of officers of the association, but to give them a vote would be one of the reorganization features. The membership schedule as proposed is as follows:

"Article 2. Membership in this Chamber shall be on a graduated scale as follows:

"A class, annual dues of $48.

"B class, annual dues of $24.

"C class, annual dues of $12.

"(B). Class B shall comprise wholesale dealers not directly benefitted by the market quotations; manufacturers; insurance agents; real estate agents; merchandise brokers, etc.

"(C). Class C shall comprise retail dealers, professional men and citizens.

"Classes A and B shall have the use of the market quotations and a copy of the day's quotations shall be sent to Class A members every afternoon.

"Voting in election of officers of the management or policy of the Chamber, the vote shall count as follows:

"Class A members four votes each.

"Class B members two votes each.

"Class C members one vote each.

"On all other questions of general or public interest the vote of members of each class shall be equal."

A change is also proposed as to the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee at present consists of the president, vice president and five members of the Chamber, but with the change two members of Class C would be added, thereby giving this class a voice in the executive affairs of the Chamber and making it consist of seven members in addition to the president and vice president.

The changes were considered very favorably at the meeting yesterday and it is very probable they will be agreed upon at the April meeting.

MR. S. R. HANKINS DEAD.

Passed Away Early Sunday Morning of Pneumonia—Funeral.

After a brief illness of pneumonia, Mr. Samuel Beery Hankins, a well known citi en of this city, where he has resided for some years, passed away at the James Walker Memorial Hospital at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning. The body was removed to the residence of Mrs. Ida E. Hankins, No. 113 Walnut street, where Mr. Hankins had made his home since coming to Wilmington to live, and the funeral was held from there at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. C. Wooten, pastor of Grace Methodist Church, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery and the pallbearers were Messrs. V. Hall, W. C. Clements, H. M. Foard, and Thos. W. Wood.

Mr. Hankins was in the 64th year of his age and until a few years ago resided in Brunswick county, where he was engaged in agricultural pursuits. His health has not been good for some time and about a week ago he became ill of pneumonia, being removed to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where everything possible was done to restore him to his health again. Mr. Hankins was a consistent member of Grace Methodist Church and was affiliated with Cape Fear Camp, United Confederate Veterans. He was a son of the late William Hankins and Mrs. Sarah J. Hankins, and was a brother of Mr. A. G. Hankins, of this city, who has the sympathy of a great many friends in his bereavement.

The Recorder's Court.

The Recorder had no cases of special interest to claim his attention yesterday morning, most of the defendants being charged with drunkenness. The charge of violating the hack ordinance preferred against Sam Moore, colored, some weeks ago, was investigated, judgment being reserved until today. The warrant against Moore was sworn out upon complaint of Capt. C. R. Branch, who claimed that the negro wanted to charge him 50 cents for a single trip within the city limits. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in the cases against James Riley, a white sailor, who was charged with drunkenness and vagrancy. A case against William Wright, charged with assault and battery upon his wife, was continued until today.

NEGRO KILLED BY ANOTHER

Ned Gibson Dies as Result of Pistol Shot Wound Inflicted by Dick Gause, Who Was Captured Last Night—Motive.

Running, terror-stricken, as fast as his legs would carry him toward a place of safety from his assailant who was pursuing him with a drawn revolver, Ned Gibson, colored, 25 years old and married, was shot by Dick Gause, colored, 25 years old, in MacRae's alley, about 7 o'clock yesterday morning, receiving a wound which caused his death at the James Walker Memorial Hospital a few minutes later.

Gause, who appeared to have no regrets for his deed, made his escape and although he succeeded in eluding the officers during the day, he was captured at 9:30 o'clock last night as he entered the store of Mr. S. D. Bryant, Eighth and Harnett streets, whither he went to get $20 which he had entrusted to the keeping of the merchant. He is now in the city prison and will be transferred to jail today on the coroner's commitment.

Jealousy over a woman in which both were interested furnishes the probable motive for the crime, though this has not been clearly established. The two negroes had been friends for some time and this friendship was so close that Gibson spent Sunday night with Gause at his home at the head of McRae's alley, between Swan and Harnett and Seventh and Eighth streets, where also lives Viola Sterling, over whose affections the trouble may have started. The Sterling woman spent the night with a friend in the alley and when she returned to her home about 6 o'clock yesterday morning she found Dick Gause in an ugly mood and with a large Colt's blue-steel, 38-calibre revolver in his hands. Every door in the house was locked and the windows fastened down. Gause admitted the Sterling woman and then, flashing his revolver, demanded that no one leave the room. When the Sterling woman stirred and Gause spoke harshly to her, Gibson remarked that Gause was doing "her dirty," whereupon Gause uttered an oath and announced his purpose of killing Gibson, who sought protection behind a cripple, Jas. E. Tisdale, and when one shot had been fired, the bullet going wild, Gibson man aged to snatch open the front door and got out in the alley, followed closely by Gause, who continued to fire in the direction of the rapidly moving object of his attack.

One of three shots fired in the alley entered Gibson's right side and came out on the left side. The negro staggered, but was soon on his feet again and ran for nearly two blocks to his home at No. 1116 North Eighth street, falling upon the porch, unable to go farther. A police officer came up in a few minutes and sent the wounded negro to the hospital, where he lived but a short time.

Dr. C. D. Bell, the coroner, was summoned immediately after the negro died and after viewing the body turned it over to a colored undertaker for burial. He summoned a jury to inquire into the circumstances of the negro's death, composed of F. P. Lamb, Jas. D. Bowen, L. W. Tindal, Henry Rehder, J. W. Smith, John W. Gafford. The jury met in the grand jury room at the Court House at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and examined three eye-witnesses to the tragedy, after which a verdict was returned to the effect that Gibson came to his death as a result of a pistol shot wound inflicted by Gause.

Jas. E. Tisdale, a cripple, who was in the house at the time the trouble started, was the first witness examined. There had been no quarrel, he said, between Gause and Gibson. The first thing wrong he observed was when Gibson, with pistol in his hands exclaimed, "God d—— you, Ned, I am going to kill you." Ned endeavored to make his escape from the house, but all the doors were locked and the windows fastened, and he then sought protection by keeping witness in between himself and Gause, but finally he snatched open the front door and ran into the alley. Gause fired one time in the house, but whether he was shooting at Gibson or not, the witness did not know. Gause pursued Gibson in the alley running him for about 50 yards and firing a total of three shots, one of which took effect. Gause then returned to the house and asked witness to hand him his shoes through the window, which he did. Gause then left, going to Eighth street and then toward Harnett. The pistol used by Gause was a "left-hand wheeler, blue steel, 38-calibre," probably a Colt the witness said, "and shoots six times, and is also made so that steel bullets may be used."

Viola Sterling, who lives in the house in which the trouble began, was the next witness. It was evident that she did not tell quite all she knew of the affair, although she appeared to be very particular to get in every little detail. Sunday night, she testified Ned Gibson came to her house and asked Dick Gause to go out with him, the latter stating that he could not go, whereupon Gibson asked to remain for the night, a request which was granted by Gause. Witness said she went to the home of Fannie McRae, who lives in the alley, and spent the night, returning to her home about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, accompanied by Fannie McRae. She knocked on her door and Dick Gause came to the door and asked her "what in h— she wanted." replying to which she stated that she wanted to get in the house. Gause, who had his pistol in his left hand, opened the door with his right, and commanded all in the room not to stir. Ned Gibson remarked that "Dick is doing you dirty, Viola." Gause then placed the pistol at Viola's right temple and forbade her to open her mouth in reply. Fannie McRae, as the witness called her, then entered the room. Witness started to an adjoining room, but was made to sit down by Gause, who reiterated that no one was to leave the room until he said they could. Gause appeared to be after Gibson, who knocked over a lamp in his efforts to get out of the way, and got behind Tisdale for protection. Gause fired two times in the house, both bullets going wild. One lodged in the wall just over the washstand, but witness did not know where the other one went. Witness heard Ned beg Dick not to shoot him. Gibson finally managed to get out of the house and was pursued by Gause, who, when he returned to the house, looked so mad that witness asked him not to shoot her and in reply was told to hush.

Fannie Goodman, whom the Sterling woman referred to as Fannie McRae, was the third and final witness of the investigation. She corroborated the Sterling woman as to where she stayed Sunday night, but differed in some other respects. The witness said that early yesterday morning she asked Viola to go to her (Viola's) home and bring her the eggs she left there on Sunday; that Viola was gone so long that she went to find out the cause of the delay. She arrived at the house just as Gibson and Gause were coming out. She heard a pistol shot and saw Gause with revolver in his hand, therefore began backing away. She said that she did not get inside the house. She also testified as to Gause pursuing Gibson and firing three times at him. The witness saw the same pistol on Sunday.

It required but a few minutes for the jury to reach a verdict which was as follows:

"Wilmington, N. C., March 20, 1911.

"We, the undersigned coroner's jury, having been duly summoned and sworn by Dr. C. D. Bell, coroner, of New Hanover county, to hear the evidence in the case before us, and after hearing the evidence of the witnesses find that Ned Gibson came to his death from a pistol shot wound fired from a pistol in the hands of one Dick Gause." (Signed) F. P. Lamb, foreman; Jas. D. Bowen, L. W. Tindall, Henry Rehder, J. W. Smith, John W. Gafford, secretary."

The wife of Ned Gibson was in the corridor of the Court House during the coroner's inquest, but she was not called as a witness. She seemed to be deeply grieved and at intervals sobbed as if her heart would break, although she believes her husband's death was the natural result of his own wrong doing. That jealousy over Viola Sterling was the cause of the tragedy, is her belief as expressed yesterday. She said that Gause was a desperate negro and shot several people recently, among them being Sis Baldwin, a notorious character. Her husband, she said, was a native of South Carolina and came here about ten years ago, when he was about 15 years old.

The police searched the city during the morning for Gause, but found no trace of him. The sheriff's office was not notified until 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon of the murder, but just as soon as he heard of it, Sheriff Cowan put his deputies on the case, sending them to Hilton and Smith's Creek. One of the officers learned that the negro passed Hilton about noon. The Sheriff had deputies in Brooklyn last night and sent Deputy Sheriff Harvey Cox and Constable Savage to a point beyond here in the hope of heading off the negro.

Gause left $20 with Mr. S. D. Bryant, a merchant at Eighth and Harnett streets, a few days ago and this fact became known to Chief of Police Williams, who surmised that the negro would return for his money before leaving the city for any length of time. An officer was stationed near the store during the afternoon, but Gause did not show up. Patrolman A. E. Munn was put on duty near the store last night and his vigil was rewarded for about 9:30 o'clock, Gause showed up to get his Money. He was placed under arrest, offering no resistance whatever. As soon as he was brought to the hall, Gause asked Assistant Chief of Police Woolard to send for L. Clayton Grant, Esq., whom he desired to employ as his counsel.

MRS. MICHAEL JENKINS DEAD.

Wife of Well Known Financier Passes Away at Home in Baltimore.

Many friends in Wilmington and along the Atlantic Coast Line railway system, with which he has long been prominently identified, will sympathize deeply with Mr. Michael Jenkins, of Baltimore, in the death of his wife, Mrs. Mary Isabel Jenkins, which occurred last week. Mrs. Jenkins was of a prominent Maryland family, a native of Baltimore and only last October she and her husband celebrated their 44th wedding anniversary. Of unusual beauty and fine intellectual attainments, Mrs. Jenkins was prominent in Baltimore and few women were better known or more highly esteemed in Baltimore. She gave largely to charity and was a personal friend of the distinguished Cardinal Gibbons, who took a deep interest in her works of philanthropy. The burial was in Corpus Christi Church, the edifice having been erected by the Jenkins family.

TWO SICKLY CHILDREN

Made Well by Vinol—Letters From Grateful Mothers.

New Haven, Conn.—"My little girl ever since her birth was frail and sickly and nothing seemed to do her any good, until we tried your cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. As soon as she commenced to take it, I noticed an improvement in her health and appearance. She has now taken three bottles of Vinol and from the good it has done her I can say it will do all you claim for it in building up and strengthening frail and delicate children." (Name furnished on request).

Another mother of Chicago, Ill., writes: "My little girl was thin, run down, pale and without any appetite. Vinol gave her a good appetite—she has rosy cheeks and has gained rapidly in flesh and strength.

"I cannot say too much in praise of Vinol for delicate, ailing children."

We ask every mother of a frail, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it does not do all we claim.

SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN

Held Yesterday at Noon to Make Further Arrangements for City Election—Amendment to Market Ordinance.

The Board of Aldermen was called in special session yesterday at noon for the purpose of making further arrangements for the city election to be held May 1st, at which councilmen for the ensuing two years will be elected, and for the transaction of any other business before the body. Mayor MacRae presided and in attendance were Aldermen West, Rehder, Willard, Bonitz, Hinton, Hall, Ellis and Fales.

Mayor MacRae stated that his attention had been called to the fact that it would be necessary for the Aldermen to give notice of the election to be held May 1st, in addition to the notice which has been given of the primary to be held April 18th, when candidates for councilmen will be nominated, and that some provision should be made for keeping the registration books open just preceding the election. Upon motion of Alderman Bonitz it was ordered that the registration books for the election be kept open according to law under the direction of the County Board of Elections. The necessity for having the registration books open at some time between the primary and election is obvious. It is stated that there will be no new registration for the election, the books merely being kept open for the registration of those who do not register for the primary and who have removed from one ward to another.

Admittedly for the purpose of preventing a Mr. Ruth, once heralded as the discoverer of perpetual motion, from selling fish, oysters, clams, etc., at the Front street market house, the following amendment to the market ordinance, introduced by Alderman West, was adopted upon recommendation of the market committee:

"Be it ordained by the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the city of Wilmington, N. C.,

"Section 1. Any person, firm or corporation who shall sell or offer for sale within the meat departments of the Front street market, any fish, oysters, clams, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined $10 for each and every day this ordinance is violated.

"Section 2. This ordinance shall be in effect from and after the 21st day of March, 1911."

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

TWO ROBBERIES REPORTED.

Store of Aman Brothers Rifled—Another at 11th and Campbell.

Two store robberies were reported yesterday as having occurred some time during Sunday night. The store of Aman Brothers, Seventh and Grace streets, was entered and a quantity of goods were carried away in addition to an amount of money stolen from the cash register, so it is reported. It was also discovered yesterday morning that the store of Josh Tucker, colored, Eleventh and Campbell streets, had also been broken into and a quantity of goods were carried away. After carrying away what they wanted, the thieves who entered the store of Tucker evidently had some grudge against him and, opening the faucets to a molasses and a vinegar barrel, allowed the contents to run out on the floor. So far as is known there is no clue to the thieves who committed either robbery.

HIS FATHER DEAD.

Mr. L. Stein, of A. David Co., in Baltimore on Sad Mission.

A telegram received in the city yesterday bore thhe sad news to the family and friends of the death of Mr. M. Stein, father of Mr. L. Stein, of this city, which occurred Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at his home in Baltimore. Mr. Stein, of this city, left last Monday and was with his father when the end came. He was 88 years of age and had been confined to his bed for some months. The death, while not unexpected, came as a sad blow to the family, consisting of four children, all of whom are grown and married. The funeral and interment took place in Baltimore yesterday.

WILMINGTON VS. CHARLOTTE.

First Y. M. C. A. Basketball Teams Play Here Saturday Night.

The lovers of Basketball at the Y. M. C. A. — in fact all who love the game, in the city, are rejoicing that the locals are to play the fast Charlotte team here Saturday night. Ever since the game in Charlotte two weeks ago, when the local boys played in such hard luck, the five have wanted to bring the big city quintette down here for a game, believing that on familiar playing space they can more than retrieve the loss sustained.

Crowell, one of the best forwards in the South, will be with the Charlotte team; also Averett, Allison, Alexander and Ross, who have starred in the games won by the team. Captain Hines and the locals are working hard every afternoon and will be in the best of shape by the time the game is called.

It is noped that the public will support the management by attending the game, for if they do, it will mean that the Y. M. C. A. will bring the best teams in the State here every winter. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold, as accommodations in the gymnasium are not large.

..Theatrical..

The Academy this week is offering a rattling good popular price attraction in the McDowelle Players. Their engagement, which is for all week, save Saturday, with a daily matinee, opened last night before a large audience, both in size and pleasure. The company has been heralded as one of the best popular price attractions on the road and last night it thoroughly sustained this reputation. The company is unique in that its plays are of the semi-musical character; that is, they are filled with bright musical numbers, while carrying a fine plot of dramatic power. Besides a complete vaudeville programme is presented between acts, which makes the biggest thing for the money yet presented at the Academy. Last night the bill was "The Red Dagger," a drama possessing a splendid plot and a fine comedy vein. The presentation was well made, the case doing splendid work. Notable favorites of the evening were "Happy Hal" Price, a decidedly clever comedian; Misses Florence Quinn, Mabelle Carl and Blanche Travers and Messrs. Baldwin K. Spears, Howard K. Race, Edmund M. Moses and Mark Owen.

The specialties between acts were all bright and of novel character and there was an abundance of them.

This afternoon the company will inaugurate its daily matinees, and this will be a decided innovation, as there will be only one price for the matinee. All comers will be charged 10 cents each, and if Wilmington responds as other cities, the daily matinee will be a very popular event. The bill this afternoon will be the excellent play presented last night, "The Red Dagger."

Tonight the company will be seen in one of the greatest modern successes, "On the Rio Grande," and a new line of vaudeville will be introduced between acts, while many musical numbers will be presented during the action of the play. Seats for tonight are now on sale at Plummer's.

Big Star For Two Performances.

De Wolf Hopper, in "A Matinee Idol," will be the attraction at the Academy Saturday, matinee and night. Mr. Hopper and his entire New York company, including the celebrated beauty, Miss Louise Dresser, come direct from New York where the star and play were received with open arms and acclaimed the best musical attraction of the year. "A Matinee Idol," is decidedly different from anything in which DeWolf Hopper has heretofore appeared. In fact, it is different from anything ever produced in this country. Daniel V. Arthur, the manager, describes it as "A song comedy," possibly for the want of a more appropriate title. The book was taken from one of Moliere's French comedies of the 17th century, but it has been embellished with songs and witty sayings by Silvio Hein and Messrs. Armand and Barnard.

The story of "A Matinee Idol" has to do with the adventures of Medford Griffen (DeWolf Hopper) and his little pal, Jimmie Grant. The former is an actor and the latter a race-track tout. The two are hard up and willing to do most anything to get a little money. Learning that a certain female seminary is in need of an instructor, Mr. Griffen presents himself for the position. Upon his arrival at the seminary he learns to his disappointment that another has been engaged. He is in an awful quandary, as he hasn't a penny to his name. Just as everything begins to look blackest for him, a brilliant idea strikes him. A certain young man who is in love with one of the girls in the school is taken suddenly ill. The doctor is sent for, but is not to be located. The boy's father offers a large sum of money to anyone who can cure his son. Griffen willing to take any kind of a chance, professes to be a physician. He and his little pal are ushered into the sick chamber, and he is shown the patient. The boy is not ill, he is only shamming because he does not want to be sent away. When Griffen is left alone with him, the boy confesses and opens the way to a lucrative fee for the pseudo doctor.

When the household learns what a wizard the doctor is, everybody rushes in to see him. Among the number is a Mrs. Burton, who proves to be an old New York sweetheart of the wandering actor. Following this complication others arise rapidly and are disposed of with much dispatch as not to allow the action of the comedy a moment's time to lag.

The night prices will go to $2.00, At matinee the scale will reach $1.50, but there will be 250 seats downstairs at $1.00.

Grand Theatre.

The week was started off yesterday with a vim and one of the best bills of motion pictures ever seen in this city was presented, but the management does not stand on past reputation, so every day must bring forth something new and better than the day before. Today the management has several surprises in store for its patrons, chiefly among them being the big Lubin production. "The Actress and the Singer." While this picture has some very funny situations in it, it can scarcely be called a comedy. Another picture "Red Eagle," is a beautiful Indian romance of natural magnificence and dramatic grasp. "The Greater Love" is one of the latest Edison productions and is full of thrills. This picture also introduces one of the foremost French actresses and has been the talk of motion picture critics. Mr. Henry will sing "It's Always Somebody Else." This is a most beautiful ballad with a very pretty set of lyrics.

Crystal Palace.

The opening performances of Madam Wanda, the celebrated scientific occult reader, excited a great deal of wonder at the Palace yesterday. Wanda answers any questions asked on paper by the audience. Without any communication with the inquirer she gives her answer to their direct question and indicates each one by their name. There are, of course, skeptical persons in regard to this work, but after seeing it, one must be convinced that, while not laying any claims to supernatural powers, Wanda's work is really wonderful. The act is one of the most expensive ever shown at the Palace and is one of the best in the country. In addition to this Mr. Robert Garnella and his daughter, Miss Elsie, are presenting a comical sketch entitled "An Old Fool," which is both pleasing and laughable and highly commendable for the clever characterization of the "Old Fool." New pictures will be shown today the matinee beginning 3:30 and evening performances 8:15 and 9:15.

The Bijou.

The Bijou yesterday inaugurated another big week under most flattering circumstances. The Bijou's natural attractiveness combined with the beautiful weather brought forth the crowds and last night, in spite of heavy opposition attractions, the popular theatre was packed with people. For about the fourth or fifth time in ten days the Bijou presented as one of its feature films a big hand-painted picture, "The Serpentine Dancer," which was greatly admired and vigorously applauded. They are very expensive, but the Bijou has a standing order, direct with the manufacturers, regardless of cost, to get these films as soon as they are placed on the market. Yesterday's bill was also rich in other films, and Mr. Frank Banks, as usual, made a big hit with his song. Today's Bijou programme will present another glittering array of late films, which will especially please the ladies and children.

Joyland.

Today is another big feature day for the little Market street house and the feature film today will be "The Burning of Rome." When this picture was produced it startled the world and is one of the most expensive pictures ever made, as it cost the manufacturers $30,000 to produce. The scenes are laid around the original spot and the massive structures that were built to produce this picture and destroy would put anyone to dreaming. In addition to this the regular programme will be run and will be made up of high-class comedy and drama. There will be a feature duet by Mr. Reilly and Mr. Armstrong, "Oh, That Moonlight Glide," and that beautiful ballad, "My Rosebud." Admission 5 cents. Programme changes daily.

COTTON MAKES SLIGHT GAIN

Closed Steady With Prices Net Unchanged to Seven Point Higher. Census Bureau Report—Principal Feature.

New York, March 21.—The final report of the Census Bureau for the season, indicating a total ginning of 11,941,563 bales, including 397,592 bales of linters, proved just about as expected and failed to stimulate any fresh business in the cotton market today. The close, however, was steady with prices net unchanged to seven points higher.

The market opened 1 to 6 points higher in response to better cables than expected, but there seemed to be no aggressive support and the failure of the census figures to bring in fresh buying for outside long account encouraged local selling for a reaction. Prices soon eased off to a net loss of about 5 to 7 points in consequence but below 14.50 for May there was support from the bull leaders on what the market became firmer with early sellers showing a disposition to cover on a scale up. After advancing from 14.46 to 14.57 for May and from 14.30 to 14.43 for July, realizing checked the advance and subsequent fluctuations were somewhat irregular, but the clase was within a point or two of the best. New crop positions were relatively easy owing, probably to reports of rains from the Southwest. Private cables from Liverpool attributed the early advance there to expectations of bullish ginning figures, and after the publication of the census report there was a moderate reaction. A private cable received here late in the day said that the English trade quite generally construed the census figures as indicating a commercial crop of 12,250,000 bales. Locally there was some difference of opinion as to the commercial crop indicated by the ginning figures, but perhaps the most general tendency was to add between 100,000 and 200,000 bales to the report, in calculating the probable commercial count. Bullish interests, however, pointed to the unusually large proportion of linters and to the supposedly large proportion of thrashed cotton in the total as indicating a comparatively small supply of good spinnable cotton.

Receipts at the ports today 8,144 bales against 7,495 last week and 11,683 last year; Today's receipts at New Orleans 1,288 bales against 3,304 last year, and at Houston 5,254 bales against 4,118 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet, 5 points higher; middling uplands 14.60; middling gulf 14.85; sales 1,300 bales. Futures opened steady and closed steady.

STOCK MARKET MADE HEADWAY

Nervousness and Frequent Shifting of Position During the Day—Gains of About a Point on May Important Issues.

New York, March 21.—In spite of some nervousness and frequent shifting of position, the stock market made headway today in the direction of higher prices. The suddenly acquired strength, which late last Saturday changed a slow, drooping market into an unexpectedly firm one, was shown today in advances which were scored in the face of various obstacles, chief among which were the large offerings made on any considerable strengths and uncertainty as to whether the Supreme Court would decide the anti-trust cases today.

Gains of about a point were made on the day by many important issues. Saturday's upward movement and the favorable bank report of last week showing an increase on the percentage of reserves and only slight expansion of loans resulted in an accumulation of buying orders over the week end sufficient to send up quotations at the opening. Offerings were large enough to force a quick recession, however, and the market fell into the state of coma, which has marked most of the Supreme Court's decisions days for months past. When it became known that the rulings were not to be made today, the market grew very active and prices were advanced materially in a few minutes, but stocks were again sold freely enough to check the rise. Prices receded and trading was dull until the last hour, when best figures of the day were established. United States Steel, Reading, Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific were leaders in the advance. Although the week started with a considerable loss by the banks from sub-treasury operations, the money market today displayed unabated ease. London reported a strong demand and firmer discount rates. Stocks were steady in both London and Paris, although trading on the British exchange was restricted by preparations for the settlement. Sales of $4,500,000 bonds of one of the Pennsylvania railroad subsidiaries was announced.

The bond market was irregular. Total sales par value $2,364,000. United States 3s and 4s registered declined 1-4 on call. Total sales for the day 373,900 shares.

LIVERPOOL ADVICES POOR.

Contingent Selling Orders Started Small Movement on Market.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, March 20.—Liverpool advices were poor and sales from that market were made on the opening when the final ginners' figures of 11,941,000 attracted attention. On this estimate contingent selling orders started a small selling movement which, when exhausted, was followed by liberal buying of July deliveries and covering of earlier sales and greater steadiness. These figures and the consideration of statistics bearing upon the old crop prices now turn upon the conditions in the Southwest. Texas needs rain, but the time is ample before the complaints can be serious. Spot holders are firm. Liverpool shows an increased spot demand. The speculative public holds aloof and trade reports are conflicting. The activity in old crop deliveries leads to some opinion that July deliveries may advance over May.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Track Team Invited to Charlotte—State Meet—Rockefeller Gift.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., March 20.—Capt. W. G. Peace, commandant of cadets, left Wednesday night for New York in response to a telegram stating that his wife, who is in New York, was ill.

The management of the track team has received an invitation from the Charlotte News to participate in an eight-mile marathon race to be held in Charlotte Saturday, April 29th, under the auspices of the News and the Charlotte Y. M. C. A. A general invitation has been extended to all the colleges and athletic clubs in both North and South Carolina, as well as individual runners, to participate in this race.

Easter Monday this year promises to be a red letter day at A. & M. both from an athletic and social standpoint, as the State Track Meet will be held in the morning, the annual Easter Monday baseball game with Wake Forest in the afternoon, and the annual dance of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, complimentary to the other fraternities at A. & M., will be held in Pullen Hall that night.

Manager Hinkle has arranged two more track meets, one to be held with Wake Forest in Raleigh March 30th, and one with Guilford College, at Guilford, April 6th.

All of the arrangements for the State Meet, which is being gotten up by Dr. B. J. Ray, an enthusiastic track man connected with the Agricultural Experiment station at the college, have been nearly concluded. Dr. Ray is endeavoring to get the merchants of Raleigh to offer a valuable trophy, to cost in the neighborhood of $500, to be contested for each year at a State meet to be held in Raleigh and to be the permanent possession of the college that wins it a specified number of times. Should this trophy be offered, a great deal of interest would be stimulated in track athletics at the different colleges throughout the State, and would insure a State meet every year to be held in Raleigh.

Saturday morning at chapel President Hill read a letter that he had received from one of John D. Rockefeller's representatives, offering the college Y. M. C. A. $20,000 to be applied on a $40,000 building, provided the college Y. M. C. A. should raise the remaining $20,000 in a specified time and in a specified way. Secretary Bergthold announces that $7,000 in pledges has already been secured, and that an active campaign would be waged to secure the remaining $13,000 that is needed to meet the requirements of the Rockefeller offer.

WHITEVILLE NOTES.

Hayes and Wife Leave—Death—Fruit Prospects—High School.

Whiteville, N. C., March 20.—Neill Hayes and his wife left on the early morning train Saturday, and it is said they have departed from Columbus county for good and will not locate either at Tabor or Whiteville.

Saturday night Mr. Simp. Lewis, the well known R. F. D. carrier on Route No. 1, from Whiteville, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ira Lennon, in Chadbourn. The remains were carried to Bladen county yesterday and laid to rest in the family burial ground. The deceased was about 55 years old and leaves two sisters, Mrs. Ira Lennon and Mrs. James M. Shipman, of Columbus, and a brother in Bladen county. Mr. Lewis had accumulated a nice property, and not leaving any will, as we understand, it will be divided among his relatives. The deceased had been on the decline for some time, and was urged to quit work and rest up, but he did not seem apprehensive about his condition and died in harness, as it were.

Mr. Oliver, one of our most successful and progressive farmers, stated to the Star's correspondent that the fruit was not as yet harmed to any material extent, as so few trees were in bloom. He also said that there are poor stands of tobacco plants, the beds being killed out by cold as soon as the seed sprouted, and it was his opinion that there must be a short crop planted this season.

The Whiteville High School today opens as a pay school, the fund being exhausted. Four of the teachers have been dispensed with, Misses Morrison and Earnhardt, Mr. Schlotter, and Mrs. Seth L. Smith. There is some money yet on hand to supplement the tuition fees, and it is hoped that enough pupils will attend to keep the school going. This is only a temporary embarrassment, for when a reassessment of town property is this year made it is thought abundant funds will be realized to operate the school full time hereafter.

A Fierce Night Alarm.

is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2,) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds, or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, hay fever, la grippe, whooping cough, hemorrhages fly before it. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Sold by Robt. R. Bellamy.

TRINITY AFFAIRS.

Memoirs of Governor Holden—New College Bell Bought.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., March 18.—The Trinity College Historical Society, long active in the cause of North Carolina history, has made a contract for the publication of the Memoirs of Governor William W. Holden. They will form the second volume of the John Lawson Monographs, a series of books established last year, in which the autobiography of Brantley York has already been issued. The forthcoming volume will prove of interest to all readers of North Carolina history, for the author was for years the editor of the North Carolina Standard, the leading Democratic paper before the war, and afterward was elected Governor under the Reconstruction Acts. His Memoirs give a first-hand view of many events and movements, such as the free suffrage issue, in which the Democrats won the State from Whig control, the Charleston Convention of 1860, the Secession Convention of 1861, war politics, and certain phases of reconstruction. The volume will contain about 160 pages, will be bound in cloth, and will be ready for distribution in September. It is the purpose of the Historical Society to add other volumes to the series, which will naturally be of practical value to all interested in North Carolina history, but will stand as a lasting memorial to John Lawson, the explorer and pioneer historian of North Carolina.

Bishop Kilgo left Thursday for Waterliet, N. Y., to purchase a bell for Trinity College. He will confer with the company which made the old bell which was lost in the fire. This company has made many of the most noted bells in the country. It is proposed to buy a much larger bell than the old one, and to place it in a temporary structure, to remain until a permanent tower is completed.

The chief manager and chief marshal for commencement have been elected by the two literary societies of the college, and these gentlemen have selected their assistants. The societies alternate each year in electing these officers, the chief marshal, Mr. R. G. Cherry, coming from the Columbian Society this year, and the chief manager, Mr. W. G. Sheppard, from the Hesperian. Both are from the Junior class, and have been identified closely with many undergraduate activities.

Mr. Cherry has chosen the following men from the Columbian Society to assist him: From the Freshman class, Mr. T. B. Everton, of Punta Gorda, Fla.; Mr. S. S. Jenkins, of Lumberton and Mr. W. F. Starnes, of Monroe; from the Sophomore class: Mr. J. H. Rose, of Warrenton; Mr. B. B. Slaughter, of Burlington, and Mr. S. S. Alderman, of Greensboro. The chief manager, Mr. Sheppard, has chosen the following men from Hesperion: From the Freshman, Mr. M. C. Terrell, Ansonville; Mr. R. T. Lucas, of Charlotte; and Mr. W. A. Sherrod, of High Point; from the Sophomore class, Mr. Hal Hayes, Winston-Salem; Mr. J. M. Thompson, Fayetteville, and Mr. T. P. Pace, of Maxton.

BLOOD TROUBLES

CONSTITUTIONAL INFECTION

Constitutional Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins in an insignificant manner, usually the appearance of a tiny sore being the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous infection is at work, and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Constitutional Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smoulder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to REMOVE the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the blood, and while removing the infection makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy. This causes a general upbuilding of the entire system, and when S. S. S. has made a cure there is no return of the hideous symptoms. S. S. S. is made entirely of vegetable matter, containing not the least particle of mineral in any form. It is a perfectly safe medicine and a certain cure for blood poison. We have a Home treatment book which we will be glad to send free to all who write and request it, also any medical advice without charge.

Getting Ready for Marathon Race—Cleaning-Up Week—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Durham, N. C., March 18.—In the great marathon race that is to be held next month at Charlotte under the auspices of the Charlotte Chronicel, April 29th, Durham will be well representer. It will be recalled that this race was held in this city last year and was a great success from every standpoint. In that race, runners from Durham took both the first and third prizes, and were in competition with such fast men as the mighty Enzor, of Charlotte. The marathon here last year was under the auspices of the Durham Sun and the local Y. M. C. A. The two forces will put out the team that is to represent Durham at Charlotte next month.

The address of Mr. J. Horace McFarland, president of the American Civic Association, here last week, is already bearing fruit. For several days the city has been undergoing a thorough cleaning up. When the "campaign against ugliness" was begun in Durham last Thursday morning, the carts and street cleaning force of the city were put at the disposal of ladies of the Civic League. The back lots of the business section were the first to receive the attention of the "city housekeepers." One cartload after another has been hauled from these places, carrying away old barrels, waste paper, and almost every sort of garbage and filth. The garbage is being hauled to the farm of Mr. John Sprunt Hill, who offered a prize to the one who hauled the greatest number of loads. The winner succeeded in dumping 19 loads of waste from the city. The city has been divided into districts and a lady from the Civic Association is in charge of each.

The noted Jewish Rabbi, Abram Simon, of Washington, D. C., is to deliver an address here next Wednesday evening at the National Religious Training School. The school is now finishing up the last quarter of its first year, and the programme for the first commencement will be announced in a few weeks.

WAKE FOREST AND TRINITY.

Baseball Schedule Re-Arranged—No Easter Monday Game.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Trinity College, Durham, N. C., March 18.—The differences between Trinity and the Wake Forest baseball teams have about been patched up, except that the Easter Monday game will not be played. The wide misunderstanding between the two teams has almost been adjusted. For a time it seemed that the whole series would be cancelled by Wake Forest just because an agreement could not be reached on the Easter game. The two teams are scheduled for five games this year; two at Wake Forest, one in Raleigh and two in Durham, and for some time things seemed to prove that the whole thing would go up in the air.

It being the understanding that the Easter game will be cancelled, the local manager is bending every effort to arrange for another game on that date. Eastern College wants the vacant place, and will try to come here at a time suitable to the Trinity team. No explanation has been made as to why the Easter game was cancelled.
